EL CAMINO NETWORK: 2018-19 RESULTS

El Camino, which means “the Way” in Spanish, is an extended day program in the Mott Haven neighborhood of the South Bronx that provides academic support, enrichment, and formation in good character and the Catholic faith for underserved children who cannot afford a Catholic school. El Camino helps children, their families, and their teachers to know, love, and serve Christ and His Church; develop the habits, dispositions, and beliefs that are indispensable to human flourishing and happiness; and live as disciples in this world and saints in the next.

In its sixth year (2018-19), El Camino served more than 315 children in kindergarten through sixth grade across three campuses. Twenty children entered the Catholic Church through Baptism. The highlights of our results are on the following pages.
